Current Roles

1. Founder and CEO of INTEGRO Infotech & Consulting

The Consulting Arm of INTEGRO: Is a boutique consultancy service provider to companies in EUROPE, especially from Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Slovenia; to help them invest in India or start their operations in India. The specialization of the consulting arm is 'India entry consulting' and 'Branding and localization' of global products and services for the Indian market. INTEGRO helps its clients create a strategic India centric Business plan and roadmap. Some of the key clients are from the Engineering, Infrastructure, Automotive, Sustainable & green business sector, Healthcare, Education and IT sector.

The Infotech Arm of INTEGRO: Is focused on providing 'cost-effective' and efficient IT solutions to NGO's and institutions. The arm of the business is based on the concept of social responsibility – here 'young women' from 'economically disadvantaged' sections of society are hired and trained in Information technology and then given a job.

2. Senior Advisor of BayIND – Bavarian Indian centre for Business and University Collaboration

In this capacity he helps Bavarian SME's and Universities to establish connections and partnerships with Indian companies and Educational institutions. The Bavarian-Indian Centre for Business and University Cooperation (BayIND) has been set-up in order to coordinate and promote the university cooperation between Bavaria and India. In addition, the Centre has also been designed as a central service institution for companies (SMEs).
