

Dominic Weiss

CEO of UIV Urban Innovation Vienna GmbH

Dominic Weiss is the CEO UIV Urban Innovation Vienna GmbH, Vienna's climate and innovation agency. He accumulated his main expertise in multidisciplinary research and development of urban projects and systems, with social inclusion, digital technology, and ecological sustainability and their interplay always playing the key roles.

Dominic Weiss graduated in Political Science and European Studies from University of Vienna. He then worked for the European Union Department of the Vienna Business Agency in Vienna and Brussels. Within this role, he was responsible for funding and strategy development. In his position as an EU expert, he has been involved in a number of transnational projects featuring ICT solutions, environmental technologies, and renewable energy management.